

INSTITUT FÜR HÖHERE STUDIEN
INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDIES
Vienna

& Society for Computational Economics

Call for Papers

Workshop in Honor of Stephen J. Turnovsky

The Institute for Advanced Studies (IHS), Vienna and the Society for Computational Economics (SCE) invites submissions for a Workshop in honor of Stephen J. Turnovsky, Castor Professor at the University of Washington.

The Workshop will take place May 20-22, 2010 at IHS Vienna.

Manuscripts are solicited in the following areas of economics:

- Dynamic Macroeconomics
- Economic Growth and Welfare
- Public Finance
- International Macroeconomics and Trade
- Stochastic Macroeconomics
- Monetary Policy

The Workshop will consist of approximately 15 paper presentations over a three-day period. Of these papers, 8-10 will be selected for a special issue of the Journal of Economic Dynamics and Control. The Program Committee of the Workshop and the Guest Editors of the special issue of the JEDC are Walter H. Fisher of the Institute for Advanced Studies, Vienna and Kenneth M. Kletzer of the University of California, Santa Cruz.

Contributors are asked to send an initial abstract or paper, with papers preferred, by October 1, 2009. If you initially submit an abstract, please send a complete paper by December 15, 2009. The Workshop Program will be determined by January 15, 2010. Partial reimbursement of travel and accommodation expenses for participants is possible.

Please send your electronic submissions to either:

Walter H. Fisher: fisher@ihs.ac.at

Kenneth M. Kletzer: kkletzer@ucsc.edu