

Invitation

The Institute for Advanced Studies in Vienna and the Society for the Advancement of Economic Theory will hold a Workshop on Risk, Ambiguity, and Decisions in honor of Daniel Ellsberg

at its venue on

May 10-11, 2010

This Workshop represents a continuation of the series of small conferences that the Institute has hosted in previous years. (For a brief synopsis on earlier workshops see below.) This time, the workshop is a joint venture with the Society for the Advancement of Economic Theory and dedicated to the 50th anniversary of Ellsberg's discovery and publication of the Ellsberg Paradox.

We shall be pleased to receive submissions for the Workshop until December 1, 2009. Please send submissions to one of the organizers. Selected papers from the conference may be published in a special issue of Economic Theory, edited by Mark Machina.

If you wish to attend the Workshop, please register by sending mail to

Marion Kelemen (mkelemen@ihs.ac.at)

There is no registration fee. More details are on the next page.

The Institute for Advanced Studies in Vienna will cover the cost of accommodation and lunches (but not the travel costs). To book your hotel room please contact Marion Kelemen (mkelemen@ihs.ac.at). Please keep in mind that Vienna is a busy city and early booking is very important. (We cannot guarantee that hotel rooms will be available for late bookings.)

There will be presentations of about 50-75 minutes each during two days, allowing for ample time to discuss each paper. For program updates, please refer to the homepage of the Institute for Advanced Studies at

<http://www.ihs.ac.at/>

Lunches will take place in a nearby restaurant. In the evening of May 10 there will be a visit to a "Heurigen" (a typical Viennese wine and food place) with ample opportunity to socialize.

The conference venue is Lecture Hall II (HS II) at the Institute for Advanced Studies, Stumpergasse 56, A-1060 Vienna.
